NEVADA CITY, WITH COMMUNIST LOAD REMOVED, BACK TO NORMAL

Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

A Sacramento newspaper quoted the editor of this newspaper at some length yesterday morning. We have never said anything for publication in any other newspaper than the Nugget. Most newspaper publishers refuse to quote anyone, especially in their own profession, unless permission is given. It is generally regarded bad professional ethics to quote a man without his knowledge or consent.

What happened was this: There was a report to the effect a motorcade of CIO-communists was either enroute or about to start from Sacramento Saturday evening. A large crowd had gathered along Broad street. The editor of the Nugget called up a Sacramento newspaper office to ascertain whether the CIO motorcade story was a fact. He was assured it was not. There ensued a few brief exchanges of gossip and rumors regarding the conditions in Sacramento and Nevada City. To our amazement and disgust we find this conversation, presumably privileged, as between newspaper editors, boldly set forth in type.

Since President Roosevelt called the newspaper reporters out after midnight during his recent stay at Warm Springs, Georgia, to hand them a statement to the effect that he did not wish to be a dictator, even if he could, Congress to all practical purposes has defeated the Reorganization bill. The House of Representatives, of course, never doubting the President's word, that he wouldn't be a dictator if he could, does not intend to give him a chance to be.

The bill to pack the Supreme Court defeated in the senate, and Reorganization bill to put vast powers in the President's hands to perpetuate the New Deal, beaten in the House of Representatives, together are probably the severest rebuke any President has had since the impeachment of Andrew Jackson. To make it even more humiliating the rebuke is administered by his own party members in Congress.

The government of the United States is unquestionably the most extravagant and wasteful on earth. Everybody knows that there is a crying need for reorganization. But Congress, which has come to know Mr. Roosevelt far better than those who listen to his fireside chats, does not propose to trust the president with the reorganization job.

What is needed is for Congress to choose a disinterested commission (one more commission cannot do any harm) and let it draft a new plan, then adopt it. Whatever the new reorganization plan is, it should cut half the red tape, cut out the overlapping, cut out the waste everywhere, cut out the pork and opportunity to graft. In short it should be a plan to safeguard and save the people's tax money and to give this country an efficient and business-like administration regardless of the party in power or the men in the White House.

We almost believe that if the Republican party would pledge itself to do this, it would help it to win the national election in 1940. But skepticism will intrude. The Republican party had many years in which they had the power to do this very thing and failed. Hoover, than whom no occupant of the White House was ever a better business man, tried it. He couldn't get to first base with it. The Democratic majority in the House was intent on handicapping and defeating the Republican President. Charley Michelson was busy with his "smear." Party above country won the day.

People throughout this nation are now tax conscious. The begin to estimate the appalling burden of 38-billion dollars, of which the Roosevelt experiments account, for, roughly, 18-billions. The 20 billions are mainly attributable to President Wilson's experiment in "making the world safe for democracy." Unless there is a general repudiation of these debts, or its erasure by means of wild inflation, generations of Americans will wince under the galling saddle of the tax collector.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Conner, who reside south of San Juan had as guests during Sunday the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindeman, Mrs. Jennie Renwick, Miss Sadie Ames, Sacramento; Mrs. W. P. Sawyer and family, Nevada City and Mr. and Mrs. Washburn of North San Juan.

Chamber Thanks State Officers For Aid After Communist Exodus

Three hundred CIO-communists staged a sit down strike on the lawn of the Capitol park this morning. The return of Governor Frank Merriam was awaited by the Sacramento police before dispersing them.

The three hundeed claimed to have come from Nevada County but authorities there recognized many agitators who make Sacramento their hangout.

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen states that deputies and state highway patrolmen have been withdrawn as an escort for the Lava Cap miners. Otto Schiffner, Lava Cap manager told the sheriff that he had dismissed over thirty men who went down to Sacramento yesterday and failed to show up for their shift today. Schiffner also stated that any one who failed to show up for tonight's shift would also be dismissed. The manager said that only one man had quit the mine on account of the labor trouble. and he had quit voluntarily.

The whole county is experiencing a sense of relief since the CIO-communists have moved out. The threats, abuse and various petty acts of coercion that wore down the patience of a long suffering community, have suddenly ceased. Business in the twin cities is responding immediately to what might be termed a surgical operation.

Jim Vasion, one of the six to be tried on a charge of rioting on April 25, has moved to Sacramento with his wife and seven children It is reported that he has been provided with a tent set up on the Capitol lawn. Vasion has been a lonely figure on Broad street and his friends are rejoiced that he has now rejoined his comrads in Sacramento.

Alarmed by the misrepresentation and the propaganda being peddled by the CIO-communists to the newspapers in San Francisco and other cities of California, fraternal, patriotic and civil organizations of Nevada City are engaged in sending letters to state authorities and the press services in an attempt to present to the public a true picture of what has occurred here. The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce today wired the following letters:

April 10th, 1938.

Hon. Frank F. Merriam,
Governor of California,
Sacramento, Cal.

Dear Governor: The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce, at this assemblage, desires to express to you its sincere appreciation of your understanding in our recent purge of an impossible element in our community.

Two of the very CIO agitators who called upon you for troops were caught here this same night with an imported band of thugs who were armed with guns.

The real truth of the matter is that strike conditions have never prevailed here. CIO organizers from outside remote points have threatened and insulted the community for the past four months in an attempt to force their brand of radicalism upon our miners, whose only desire is to work in peace.

There are 10,000 people in these communities who are of one mind in their determination to keep these trouble makers out of here. We shall be thankful for your continued cooperation.

NEVADA CITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
FRED E. CONNER, Pres.
W. H. GRIFFITHS, Secty.

April 10th, 1938.

U. S. Webb,
U. S. Attorney General,
San Francisco, Cal.

Dear General: The people of Nevada City through this Chamber of Commerce, wesire to express to you their sincere appreciation of your understanding and cooperation at a time when the right to work and the peace of this community has been upset for the past four months by communist CIO organizers who have no interest in our welfare other than to cause trouble.

The ten thousand people of these communities are of one mind in their determination to preserve the peaceful and orderly conditions that we have enjoyed for a generation. We ask your continued cooperation in our efforts. Sincerely.

NEVADA CITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
FRED E. CONNER, President.
W. H. GRIFFITHS, Secretary.

This letter is addressed locally to Carl J. Tobiassen, Sheriff.

April 10th, 1938.

Carl J. Tobiassen,
Sheriff of Nevada County,
Nevada City, Cal.

Sir: The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce, through its entire membership, desires to express to you its sincere appreciation of your efforts and success in preserving law and order during the recent disturbance with the communist CIO agitators.

You may rest assured that you have and will have the fullest cooperation from this body in the preservation of the right to work and to carry on our industry free from outside interference.

Cordially yours,
THE NEVADA CITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
FRED E. CONNER, President.

CHAMBER MAY NAME PUBLICITY BODY TONIGHT

There will be a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this evening at the city hall. Among matters to be considered will be the question of whether or not to appoint a committee to take charge of publicity campaign to place before the people of California Nevada City's point of view concerning the departure of CIO-communists from this community. All members of the chamber are especially urged to be present.

Nevada City Chamber of Commerce requests all members and interested parties to attend the meeting in the city hall tonight as the 4th of July celebration is to be discussed.

The noon luncheons are creating a new interest in the Chamber of Commerce as eight new members h come in including the Grant and Heether Sawmill firm of Camptonville, Lewis Woods and Mrs. W. Cunningham, merchants of North San Juan. New Nevada City members are: Save More Stores, (E. Gallagher), Mrs. Jack Brooks, Brownie Dudley, Phil Scadden.

ROTARY TO ELECT OFFICERS THURS.

The Rotary club at next Thursday's luncheon will nominate and elect directors. The president, Harley M. Leete, especially urges that all members be present. The entertainment program will consist of an address by Lieutenant A. J. Meas of the United States navy. He has been in charge of CCC camps at various locations and has made an excellent record. The program chairman will be R. L. P. Bigelow.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES AT METHODIST CHURCH

A community Good Friday service will be held at the Methodist church on Friday between two and three o'clock. Rev. H. H. Buckner will bring the Good Friday message. Miss Helen Arbogast and Rev. Gray will sing solos.

Everyone is invited and welcome.

SNOW SCENES

Five beautiful snow scenes are on display in the Bret Harte cigar store that are unsually clear and give some idea of the depth of snow in the Sierras. The first is a snow-go clearing the highway of snow at Steep Hollow and the others are of the little town of Forest above Alleghany. A tunnel has been made in the snow to enter the lower story in one, and the others show the snow to be about ten feet deep.

ROBT. HULLANDER RESENTS FALSE REPORT

Robert A. Hullander, employed at the Lava Cap mine, came into the Nevada City Nugget office Saturday afternoon, and declared that he is neither a member of the CIO nor of any other organization, that he has not left town and does not intend to leave town. This is a notice to all and sundry. This mistake which appeared in several newspapers, was due largely to the confusion which resulted from the disturbances last week.

ELKS STAND BEHIND COUNTY PEACE OFFICERS

WHEREAS it has been called to the attention of this lodge of Elks, through the public press, that various persons and organizations have been and are now DEMANDING that the Attorney General of the State of California and other State and even National officers take charge of the law enforcement agencies in Nevada County, California. due to the alleged breakdown of these agencies, and,

WHEREAS thsi Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, is residing here and knowing the true conditions and state of affairs in this county, and,

WHEREAS the Order of Elks is pledged to the support of our American form of government, therefore be it resolved:

That as American citizens and Elks we declare ourselves as being in hearty accord with the measures that have been and are being taken by our peace officers during the immediate past few days, and with the results obtained by the peace officers, municipal, county and state and we do hereby commend their efforts and pledge them our support in following their lawful duties and making our community a safe place in which to live—for all law abiding American citizens and residents, and we further resolve:

That copies of this resolution be sent to the public press and to Governor Frank Merriam.
Attorney General U. S. Webb.
U. S. Attorney Frank J. Hennessy.
Chief E. Raymond Cato.
Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen.
Police Department Grass Valley.
Police Department Nevada City.

We hereby certify that this, a true copy of a resolution passed at the regular meeting of Nevada City Lodge No. 518, B. P. O. E. Held April 8, 1938.

NEVADA COUNTY GOADED BY C.I.O. PAST ENDURANCE

By GEORGE CALANAN

Irresponsible parties have advertised that anarchy prevails in these two communties. Nothing can be farther from the truth. The people of Nevada County pride themselves on the high class of their citizenship and their manhood and their womanhood. We are a patient people. That you may be convinced of this fact, let us briefly recall some of our labor troubles.

Until the CIO came into the district we did not have such troubles. A local Miners Union has handled the labor disputes. It pays ten dollars a week for sick benefits, death benefits to the amount of $150 and assistance to the widows and orphans of deceased members. It has a surplus of over $40,000 at present. No monies are paid out for any other purpose except rent, which is $18 per month and the sercetary's salary. The initiation fee is $3,00 and dues are $1.00 per month. The membershiy is 1800, all paid up.

Last spring the CIO organizers come into the field. The $40,000 treasury surplus was very alluring to the paid organibers of the CIO.

The peace and quiet of the community was not disturbed until the middle of January.

Then the CIO picketed the Murchie mine. No notice was given. No demands were made. No one other than themselves knew what it was about. It later developed at a hearing of an "interim committee of the assembly" that 23 members out of 35 members of the CIO ordered this strike. It was not unanimous. The date of the vote was early in September 1937. No strike was called at this time but was left to the executive committee of 15 to call a strike whenever they decided to do so. They called the strike January 15, 1938. Fifteen men took this action which affected 240 men who were employed at this time. The above statement was sworn to by Alfred Garesio, secretary of the said CIO members.

The Murchie mine was not operating at a profit and had decided to curtail their operations. This is a usual procedure in the mining industry. The Murchie men had been receiving 50 cents less per day than the miners in the Grass Valley district where the scale of wages were adopted by the operators and the miners. The Murchie mine and the Zeibright mines which are operated by the same company gave the men the privilege of working at the old scale of wages or a shut down of the mine. A vote was taken and the men voted overwhelmingly to continue work. The Murchie miners were then given a 25c per day raise. After 3 or 4 days demands were made by the CIO for different wage scales and bargaining rights.

The Murchie mine workers did not go through the picket line the first day. Sunday meetings were held and about two thirds of the Murchie men organized and notified the management that they were ready to go back to work. Convoyed by the deputy sheriffs they did so on January 20 and were assaulted by 75 or more CIO members and sympathizers. Scot Irwin CIO organizer from Wallace, Idaho was on the ground, personally, in an advisory capacity. The road had been obstructed by a large tree felled across it. The sheriff and his deputies were knocked down and kicked and roughly manhandled. Clubs were used and some of the CIO members were struck. Tear gas finally dispersed the crowd and ever since the Murchie men have been convoyed to their jobs by deputies. They had to pass through the picket lines, sometimes few and sometimes numerous. These pickets called the miners "scabs" and vile names. Children along the road took part in calling the miners names.

A scurrilous mimographed sheet called the "Miners Voice" has been distributed about the city at frequent intervals attacking the courts, officers of the law, the Murchie boys

City Council Seeks To Scotch Red Propaganda

The following resolution was passed by the Nevada City Council Saturday and wired to state and Federal authorities and newspapers:

* * * *

Conditions in Nevada City are being grossly misrepresented and falsified in both radio and press by the insiduous propaganda of the communist CIO organizers who have been expelled by the working miners and business men of this district.

For the past three months we have been coerced, threatened and insulted to the point of exasperation by a band of outside radicals who have no other interest than to create trouble in an otherwise peaceful community.

At no time have strike conditions prevailed here. Twenty men out of the two hundred employed at the Murchie mine have sought to force CIO membership upon twenty four hundred of our miners, who have had their own union for a generation and are receiving the best pay of any camp in California.

Two of these organizers, after complaining to the Governor and the Attorney General's office in Sacramento appeared here again the same night and were caught with an imported delegation of reds from Boca and other points. These thugs were armed with guns and steel knuckles and it was this act of aggression which led to their forcible expulsion.

We are determined that the radical communist element shall never gain a foothold here and since this purge of these undesirables we are glad to say that conditions here—all reports to the contrary notwithstanding—are more peaceful and orderly than they have been for many months.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder why plain paper bags,
Used day by day with mild urbanity,
At times have power to wreck our nerves
And fill our minds with wild profanity;
In hall or theatre one sits,
Enthralled and thrilled by art's sublimity,
But oh, how changed his mood may be
By paper bags in close proximity.

I wonder why the noted dramatic critic who recently paid his disrespects to theatre nuisances, failed to mention those most disturbiug pests of all, the paper bag rustlers; but of course even the cleverest critics can't be expected to remember everything.

We are all familiar with paper bag rustlers; in the words of the old Irishman who believed in pixies, "am't we been annoyed with them?" Like the apostles of old, the P. B. Rs. travel two by two; they come late to the theatre or music auditorium, settle themselves fussily in the seats behind us, and after engaging for several moments in a rambling and quite audible conversation, proceed open crackley paper bags, which contain cookies, candy, peanuts, or for all we know, generous supplies of ham sandwiches. From that time on until the close of the performance, there is a constant crackle, rustle, munch, crunch, and mumble. These wretched sounds obscure every high point of the entertainment which you paid good money to enjoy, and fill you with hot desires which have no place in a peace loving mind.

At last, when the time has come to go, you arise to the final rustle and crack of paper bags being crushed into tight wads and dropped upon the littered floor, and go home with temper touching new high and murder in your heart. That is what paper bag rustlers can do to the most inoffensive and well intentioned theatre goers. My disrespects to the B. P. Rs. —may their tribe decrease.

I wonder how to choose one from among many similar products, all of which are guaranteed by their radio god fathers, to produce exactly the same results. For example, we are assured that numerous articles ranging from granulated potato chips to bottled sea foam will, if used for cleansing purposes, keep our hands soft and smooth and make the family washing seven shades whiter than the neighbors; and that scores of nostrums with curious names, have power to stop a cold in its tracks and enable the addict to boast of crude and robust health. All this is most interesting; but how is one to make a choice?

Uncle Silas says: "Mussolini's speech of defiance may have made deep impressions upon the minds of his supine followers, but at this distance, he sounded like an uneasy bully, whistling to keep his courage up.

DEBRIS BOARD GUESTS OF CALIF. HYDRAULIC ASSN.

By KATHERINE BRAITHWAITE

The forty-sixth meeting of the California Hydraulic Mining Association was held in the Bret Harte Inn at Grass Valley last Saturday afternoon with president George Hallock officiating.

Secretary W. W. Esterley read a report from the State Railroad Commission which assured the people of North San Juan that electricity for that community is practically assured within a reasonable time. Instead of extending the line from the Boss mine the P. G. & E. engineers report it will be more economical to the company and the consumers to serve the town from a new line which will eventually connect Colgate and Alleghany. Construction on this line will begin as soon as the survey is completed. P. G. & E. officials will be on hand in the very near future to re-canvass the town for people who desire to be served electricity. The original petitions obtained from the residents have been returned to the secretary of the C. H. M. A. for the files of that organization.

As soon as the bids are advertised for the Yuba dam the actual work will proceed in less than sixty days. Chief construction engineer Burke has moved his family to Auburn from San Francisco and will work under the supervision of the yovernment on the debris dam projects. Dr. Paul M. Needham, working out of the debris office in Sacramento has been sent out here from Washington, D. C. to study the effect of the dams on the fish situation. Dr. Needham is a member of the Federal Bureau of Fisheries and is an expert aquatic biologist. Seven thousand dollars has been appropriated to finance this work.

The entire debris commission was present at the meeting Saturday and was headed by Colonel Warren T. Hannum. Colonel Hannum will be the man who will let all the contracts for the dams. Other members of the association were Colonel L. B. Chambers, Fred Harvey, Colonel Hill and Major F. M. Johnson.

A feature of the director's luncheon Saturday was a tray of gold nuggets from the Ruby mine in Sierra county. This display was in charge of Bert Austin president of Mining Exhibits. Inc., of San Francisco. This collection represented ten days wash and ranged in chunks valued at one hundred dollars up to thirteen hundred and a total recovery of six thousand dollars. B. C. Best is the owner of the Ruby mine and Lewis Hughlesdonk is his superintendent.

EASTER PAGEANT IS PREPARING

The Nevada City Methodist-Episcopal church, under the direction of the Rev. E. J. Gray, associate pastor, will present their Easter pageant Easter Sunday evening in the church. The cast has been working very hard for about a month on the pageant and eqpect it to be a success.

Rev. Gray is assisted by Mrs. W. G. Robson. The name of the pageant is "Makers of the Cross" by Shannon and Lighthill. It consists of songs and a story, which will be ready by Miss Jean Hawkins. In the pageant will be included the following: Duet by Alice Jean Graham and Mary Libbey; duet by Dorothe Hoff and Bill Rickar; solo by Tom Rickard; and a solo by Rev. Gray.

The chorus, which consists of mostly Epworth League members, are: Alice Graham, Dorothe Hoff, Bub Tobiassen, Tom Rickard, Bill Rickard, Fred Garrison, Phil Angove, Melvin Clark, Marjorie Robson, Mary Libbey, Elsie Schreiber, Madeline Bettles, Barbara Phariss, Paul Phariss Clifford Hoff, John Kron, Levonne Gates. This may be augmented due to the fact that many university stun astedr R(K..bo university students are returning home for Easter this week, and will be asked to participate. Beverly Carlon will be the pianist for the performance.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITH DEETER

The time has come the Walrus said, to talk of many things—and this was the theme in a fast-talking contest over the air the other night, in which the winner spoke a 160 word a minute or something. It was complete gibberish to us for although we know the poem well the only words we could distinguist even at a wild guess were "sealing wax" and "kings." The whole thing sounded like nothing so much as a clogged drain gurgling to clear itself. We don't know if the thing was supposed to be educational or entertaining or just plain "what" but we thought it was a complete cipher.

In re "Life": On the other hand in St. Louis, Life was so severely censured for its reprint from the film, "The Birth of a Baby," that every issue on the newsstands was recalled. Now this seems brainless to us. We'll admit the pictures "told all' on this most natural of nature's phenomenon, but at that the matter was delicately and intelligently handled, and presented in such an educational manner that we cannot understand how anyone could object to this correct and scientific presentation of a subject the great majority of people are supremely curious and extremely ignorant about.

How smart are you? A wapiti is a —fish, animal, town, flower, lake, marshy place? Where is the Island of Rum? In Scotland, West Indies, Malay States, Azores? Look for the correct answers next week. Sure, we've been looking in the back of the book.

Denis Dunn again: "Any society caption, "Lady Jamtart Fatankles enjoying a joke at Newmarket," Where does he get these euphoniously unique names?

What grows faster than a mushroom? Newspaper stories about something that probably did not happen. Remember Hans Christian Andersons fable-fairy story about the little hen who lost a feather and by the time the story had made the rounds of the hen houses, no less than five hens were dead of cold and exposure?

This week's tempermental outburst: A Grosbeak canary valued at about $50 collapsed and died of excitement at the Workington (England) Cage Bird Show after the judge awarded it first prize.

Todays item of irritating information: Two monkeys have been admitted into the Malayan civil service to help the botanical officers collect specimens from high trees. They satisfied the board that they understood Malay.

Cheerio, everybody.

NEVADA CITY STUDENT WINS SHORTHAND PRIZE

The Mt. St. Mary's issue of the "Acamedy Chimes" was printed Friday. This is the second issue of the year. In it were farewells to the class of 1938 Business School graduates and many items concerning Nevada City students. Another item of interest was one about Miss Adele Joerschke, N. C. H. S. '37, and a member of the business school who has been awarded the 140 word a minute shorthand medal by the Gregg Publishing company. Miss Joerschke took the test in the presence of two witnesses, Sister Nary La Salette, Principal of the academy, and William Groggin of Grass Valley. Miss Ella Dever dictated the test and has been coaching Miss Joerschke.

A PORTRAIT

Roy Griffiths Deeter.

So lithe was she and oh so very slender
And yet, beneath her sheaf-like gown
The little curves ran in and out
As though to smile and moch at me!
Her laugh—not flute-like nor yet like a bell
But gurgling as a tiny mountain torrent
So carelessly cresendo!
Her hair—no ripened corn nor ravens wing
But satin soft as coats of young and busy tit-mice
A-flutter all the day.
Her eyes—how shall I make you see,
Her eyes were doors through which she peeped
To laugh with you, or maybe closed
To hide her tears of sympathy.
And as she sped now here, now there
On feet that simply begged to play,
So busy doing, well, just naught that I could see,
She seemed to be a little singing Wind-bell
Coquetting with Life's storms

THOMAS WOLDER FUNERAL

Funeral services were held Sunday for Thomas J. Wolder, Sr., resident of Nevada City and township over 15 years. He passed away in a Grass Valley hospital Friday after a week's illness. Mr. Wolder was a native of New York and followed mining, his last work being in the North Star mine.

Surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Kirkham and Miss Jeanette Wolder; son, Tom Wolder, Jr., of Nevada City; stepson, William Mason, Grass Valley; two sisters, Mrs. Dena Lund, Westport, Conn., Mrs. Christine Enevoldson, Denmark.

Holmes Funeral Home had charge of funeral arrangements and Rev. Charles Washburn offifiated. Interment being made in Pine Grove cemetery.

LOCAL POST V. F. W. CORRECTS REPORT IN SACTO. PAPER

The following telegram was sent to the Sacramento Union yesterday by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which that newspaper failed to print:

Sacramento Union,

Sacramento, California.

"In your Sunday edition a paragraph stating that the Veterans of Foreign Wars are organizing against the CIO is false. It is absolutely against the constitution and by-laws to take any part in any labor trouble as an organization. If the members do so as individuals, that is up to them. We are correcting Mr. Leete on this subject. However, the V. F. W. can, and will, fight communism and all other isms. Hoping that you will print this so that the truth may be shown to the public.

JIMMIE GRIER AND HIS BAND COMING

Jimmie Grier and Julie Gibson

Jimmie Grier, who brings his celebrated "Movieland" dance and radio orchestra to Grass Valley at Olympia Park on Tuesday April 19, 1938, not only has made an outstanding name for himself and his orchestra, but also has discovered and developed some of the big "names" in the field of present day stage, screen and the radio.

This popular band leader, known as the "Musical Host of the Coast", comes here directly from the famous "Biltmore Bowl" of the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles, where he established an all-time record of 208 consecutive weeks at the "Bowl" with 1400 straight half-hour radio dance programs broadcast from soast to coast.

Among the many big "names" that have been graduated from the Grier organization during the last four years are Pinky Tomlin, popular star of stage, screen and radio, who wrote the song hit, "The Object of My Affections," while singing with Grier's band at the Biltmore; Donald Novis, well known tenor, who sang with Grier's band while playing at the Cocoanut Grove of the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles; the Three Ambassadors; the Three Cheers; Joy Hodges, under contract to Universal Pictures and now a big success in a New York stage production; Larry Cotton, now vocalist with Horace Heidt's band; and his latest "finds," Julie Gibson, the charming and talented young vocalist now with Grier, heard also on the Joe Penner program every Sunday with the band, and Dick Webster, the popular baritone and violinist.

EASTER VACATION

Nevada City high school and grammar school pupils are enjoying this Easter week vacation. Several of the instructors have gone away to spend a few days at their homes or to visit friends during the holiday. The local schools have had a fine term so far there being no contagious diseases to close either one and the cold weather has not affected heating the buildings as in the past. The new grammar school has been particularly comfortable with modern heating equipment.

TRASH FIRE EXTINGUISHED

Nevada City firemen were called to a small fire at the Ted Janiss property east tof town Friday when a trash fire threatened to get out of control. The blaze spread from the trash burner to a brush pile and from there to shingles at the rear of a garage. Janiss turned water from the garden hose on it and had it pretty well extinguished when they arrived.

A fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. DeWein of Boulder street burned a small hole in the roof when sparks evidently caught from the chimney.

This county has an anti-picketing ordinance which prohibits to pickets the use of indecent and approbious language.

The CIO pickets were housed in a tent on the county road. The sheriff notified them to remove the tent within a reasonable time. This was not done. The Murchie miners, enroute home, stopped and removed the tent. No violence was offered by either parties. A few days later a Murchie miner who wished to be home earlier than he would be if he waited for the regular deputized convoy started home alone. In passing the pickets he was called all of the vilest of names. He stopped and inquired who it was who had insulted him. He was licked proper, 75 CIO picketers stood by and watched. The Murchie man weighed about 140 pounds. Brave men were these pickets. The convoy of Murchie miners later came by. Aroused and incensed by this dastardly incident they resolved then and there that the picket line should be abolished. They gathered together in town and again contacted the pickets. They were in deadly earnest and with grim determination called upon the pickets to leave peacefully. They warned them that if they did not, they would be moved by force. Some answered with rocks. Many ran to the woods. The battle was on and the casualties were suffered on both sides. The picket line was no more.

The Murchie miners were striving to make a living, pay their bills and support their families. Many of the pickets were obtaining their groceries from the government truck, cashing relief checks, social security unemployment relief checks and received other government agencies. They had all their time to spend on the picket line, striving to put the Murchie miners on the unemployment roll.

Was the CIO organization hurt? No, they ran screaming to Sacramento seeking the protection of the law, although on January 20th they openly flaunted the law and knocked Sheriff Tobiassen and some of his deputies down.

The last words of Paul Richie of the "Assembly Interim" committee were: "The strike at the Murchie mine in my judgment was very ill advised and unions must give more consideration to the communities in which they are organized.."

No one will accuse this interim committe of being antagonistic to labor unions. These communities have voted bonds to enlarge and improve the schools, to educate the children of these people. The irrigation district has laid pipelines, the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. serves the two cities and the outlying districts, to give the citidens every convenience. Yet in their mad fight for "bargaining rights", the CIO would shut down the mines which are the source of livelihood for the whole community. These people would destroy property values which have been bonded for their benefit. They have refused to take any part in the constructive life of the communities since their advent.

Had a strike been called at the CIO organized Lava Cap mine by the Mine Workers Protective League, or if a picket line were placed on the Lava Cap road as a protest against the Murchie mine picket line, it would have been no more insane than the Red Dog picket line. The Lava Cap miners would have no doubt made every effort to remove the line and we wonder if there would have been the same forbearance and patience exercised by the Lava Cap CIO's as by the Murchie miners under their able leaders.

We submit the case of the Murchie miners to the real men of this country.

J. L. BOYD PASSES ON IN SACRAMENTO

Josiah L. Boyd, 41, watch maker for the Noack-Harger company of Sacramento for the past 20 years, died early Sunday morning in Sutter hospital. He has been ill several weeks with pneumonia. Mr. Boyd was a native of Forbestown and had resided in Nevada City where he is well known.

Surviving him are his mother, Mrs. Eliza S. Boyd, a sister, Mrs. Brian Krough of Nevada City; and two brothers, William W. Boyd, Oakland, John P. Boyd, Newark. Miss Dorothy Waggoner of this city is a cousin.

Funeral services will be held in Sacramento tomorrow. Interment will be made in Pine Grove cemetery at Nevada City with graveside services at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Moyar Ben Hall have as house guests their daughter, Mrs Clifford DeLorme and son of Pacific Grove.
